PRISONERS MAKE ESCAPE FROM PARIS JAIL

Will Rankin and Frank Hanks, colored prisoners, who were serving sentences in the Paris jail on bootlegging charges, made their escape from the bastile by the now familiar trick of heating the limestone partition until it crumbled and then removing the bars from the outside windows.

It was rumored Saturday that the men had an automobile in waiting in which they were taken to Ohio, where Rankin, it was alleged, had planned to take a position as camp cook on a big construction job, just before he was arrested a short time ago. A white man, suspected of being implicated in the escape of the men, could not be located, and his automobile was missing.

Rankin and Hanks had been lodged in the older part of the jail. There are now four steel cells which that night contained two prisoners. Jailer Taylor stated that he was under the impression that a State law would have prohibited him from incarcerating the two colored men in the same portion of the jail which is used for white prisoners.

FOOTBALL NOTES

SATURDAY'S RESULTS
University of Kentucky, 15; University of Cincinnati, 0.

Pennsylvania College, 0; Marshall College, 58.

Center College, 55; University of Mississippi, 0.

The Freshman football team of the University of Kentucky, took the Paris High School team into camp on Hancock Field Friday afternoon, by the score of 27 to 0. The Paris team put up a strong fight, but the University team had come prepared to do or die, and rather than die, they did in a truly gridiron field style. The members of the Paris team are not one whit cast down by their defeat, but are ready to tackle the next bunch of warriors for the honor of old P. H. S. A meeting was held in the auditorium of the High School previous to the game, in which words of encouragement were handed out to the Paris players as a sort of mental stimulant to them. But Paris will come through again with the turn of the tide.

No matter what others say, the clothier will strive his best to suit you.

COMMERCIAL CLUB TO RESUME MONTHLY DINNERS

The first of the monthly dinners of the Paris Commercial Club, after the summer vacation, will be held in the Y. M. C. A., Thursday evening, at 6:30 p. m.

Much of the entertainment which was a feature of last year's dinners will be curtailed in the interest of a round-table discussion of ideas and plans immediately urgent. This first dinner, in other words, will be almost entirely "eats and business."

Everyone who is sincerely interested in the Commercial Club doing something worth while in the way of stimulating fall business, is urged to be present and contribute to the general discussion.

W. S. Dale has been secured as caterer for the dinner, and Billy assures us that eats will be plentiful.

Representatives of all organizations, The American Red Cross, Farm Bureau, Health and Welfare League, Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Bourbon County Woman's Club, Bourbon County Garden Club, D. A. R., U. D. C., Bourbon County Medical Association, American Legion, War Mothers, Community Service, Board of Education, County and City, Board of Council, are requested to be present to voice the sentiments of their respective bodies. Ladies are especially invited.

Let us mobilize the thought of our county and express it co-operatively through our Commercial Club to further the interests of our city and county.

Tickets will be one sale at the office of the Commercial Club, W. S. Dale's restaurant, Worck Brothers, and by the Ticket Committee.

PARCEL SALE SUCESSFUL

The Sunshine Circle of the Presbyterian church, composed of the young members, with Miss Lucy Colville in charge, cleared a handsome sum at their parcel sale held Saturday morning. Within one hour a total of $46 had been realized on the packages disposed of, with a like proportion throughout the sale.

The rummage sale held by the Woman's Auxiliary of the same church, in the Wilson building, at the corner of Main and Third streets, was also a notable success in the two days sale, realizing a goodly sum, which will be devoted to church purposes.

THE FACTS IN THE BLUE GRASS LEAGUE

The 1922 season of the Blue Grass League is a thing of the past. At its start, numbers of baseball enthusiasts threw cold water upon the proposition, and were heard to remark that the Blue Grass League would not last as much as ten days. However, the season has closed with the League playing out its entire schedule of games.

The first half of the season was won by Maysville, with the Paris team in second place.

The second half, judging from the papers of the various towns, seems to be somewhat in doubt. However, at the close of the season, the Paris team had won twenty-four games and had lost eighteen games. The Cynthiana team had also won twenty-four games and had lost eighteen games, thus leaving the Paris team and the Cynthiana team tied for first place.

The Mt. Sterling team, under the management of Preacher Hill and Hod Eller, an ex-same ball artist of the Cincinnati Reds, who was acting as manager for the Mt. Sterling team, claimed that they were winners of the pennant. Eller strived to secure that position for his club through technicalities and alleged irregularities of both the Paris and Cynthiana teams, but upon investigation the records showed that the irregularities were not in the Cynthiana and Paris management, but in the management of the Mt. Sterling team, who had failed to file contracts upon any player until the 29 day of August, of this year. Also Potts, the first baseman of the Mt. Sterling team, was by Mr. Farrell, declared an outlaw, and all of the games won by Mt. Sterling, in which Potts played, were thrown out and not counted in the final standing of the clubs. This eliminated Mt. Sterling from any claims she had upon the pennant. Eller also declared that Noble Ballou was an outlaw and not eligible to play upon the Paris team. However, Mr. Farrell, the Chairman and Secretary of the National Board of Arbitration, disagreed with Eller, and said that the standing of Noble Ballou was O. K., and that Paris was entitled to the games in which he participated, thus leaving Cynthiana and Paris tied for first place.

Then in order to settle the matter as to who was the winner of the second half of the series, Jesse Morton, the manager and owner of the Lexington club, volunteered the information that he had defeated Cynthiana one game in which he used a pitcher without signing the pitcher to a contract. This being contrary to the rules of organized baseball, this game was taken from Cynthiana as winning twenty-four games and losing seventeen, thereby finishing the season one-half a game ahead of Paris. Mr. Morton, the manager and owner of the Lexington team, volunteered this information, and for which confessed irregularity he is liable to a severe fine. In addition to the fine, Manager Morton failed to complete the season with his club and forfeited several games to Winchester and Mt. Sterling. It is reported on reliable authority that his failure to complete the season and also his confessed irregularities in running his team will be the cause of Mr. Morton losing the franchise of the Lexington club. No action has been taken upon this matter at the present, but the Directors of the Blue Grass League expect to act upon the same at some future date.

At the final winding up of the season, Cynthiana was declared the winner of the second half by one-half a game over the Paris club, and is now playing off a series with Maysville.

BASE BALL

In the game played under protest at League Park, in Paris, Friday afternoon, the Mt. Sterling team came from behind in the ninth inning and defeated the Mammoths by a score 13 to 12. Paris entered a protest at the beginning of the game on account of Devereaux, formerly of the Winchester team, playing with Mt. Sterling. It was stated that Devereaux's contract with the Winchester club did not expire until next Thursday, October 12. As the score indicated the contest was a free-for-all in the hitting order, Paris using four pitchers during the nine innings. Nippert, Cicona, Winger, Eller and Ritter figured in the hit column. Cicona getting two three-base hits. Cicona was slightly injured in sliding headlong into home plate.

The batteries were: For Paris—Wills, Cotter, Mueller, Woods and Macke; for Mt. Sterling—Ferrell, Harrison and Lackey. Umpires, Brookman and Klopp.

According to published schedule the Louisville Colonels will play the Paris Mammoths at League Park next Saturday, October 14. The Colonels had to travel ten innings to defeat the Winchester team of the Bluegrass League at Winchester, Sunday. Hod Eller, former world series star and present manager for the Mt. Sterling team, pitched for Winchester, and was in splendid form. The final score was 5 to 4. Tinckup started pitching for Louisville, but was relieved in the fifth by Deberry, who was touched up for ten hits, and four runs. Winchester tied the score in the ninth, Louisville putting over the winning run in the tenth.

The agony is at last over, and the official seal has been placed on Cynthiana as winner of the second series of the Blue Grass League race. Paris fondly hoped to be the abiding hope of the pennant, and for a while even the proverbial Philadelphia lady would have been puzzled to ascertain which team was to be dubbed the champions. Mt. Sterling claimed it. Cynthiana was sure it belonged there, and Paris thought it was cinch, while Winchester and Lexington were officially out of the running. We are all glad it is over, but sorry Paris was eunched out of the honor, which few of us doubt belonged here—the championship of the Blue Grass League.

A proposal has been made at Lawrenceburg to start a baseball league next year with Lawrenceburg, Frankfort, Shelbyville, Harrodsburg, Bloomfield and Bardstown as members. And already there is talk here of organizing a base ball league in Bourbon county, composed of North Middletown, Jacksonville, Millersburg, Austerlitz, Escondida, Hutchison, Riddles Mills, Spears Mill and Paris. Some league, that!

The first game of the Blue Grass League championship series between the Maysville and Cynthiana teams was staged on the Cynthiana grounds Sunday afternoon, resulting after an uphill fight in the score being tied in the eighth inning, and the game called on account of darkness. The score then stood 6 to 6, and no prospects of either team being able to pull another run across the plate before darkness settled down over the conflict. Boskin pitched a good game for Maysville until the eighth inning when he weakened, and this, coupled with errors, netted the Cynthiana team four runs. Monhollen, on the pitching mound for Cynthiana strengthened as the game progressed. Cynthiana's first run came in the fourth inning, when Barker after hitting for two bases, scored on a deep single by Farley. The batteries were: For Cynthiana, Monhollen and Barker; for Maysville, Boskin and Connolly. The third and fourth games in the series will be played at Maysville on next Thursday and Friday, the fifth at Cynthiana Saturday, and the sixth contest at Maysville Sunday.

The Louisville Colonels, who are on a barn-storming tour through Kentucky, will play the Cynthiana team at Cynthiana to-morrow.

EXPLAIN EXTENSION COURSES

The Bourbon County Teachers Association met at the court house Saturday morning, where they listened to addresses by Prof. Wellington Patrick and Dr. P. K. Holmes, of the University of Kentucky on modern educational topics of special interest to progressive teachers. The program of the extension courses of the University to be given in Paris this fall, winter and spring, were outlined by the speakers, and no speakers ever had a more attentive and interested audience.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN AND ALL CONTENTS

One of the most disastrous fires in Bourbon county for many years Friday night resulted in the destruction of the large barn belonging to Wm. M. Jones, near North Middletown, together with ten highbred saddle horses, a large quantity of hay and feed, four miles, three wagons, and farming implements.

The barn is about 175 feet in length and was a mass of flames when discovered. An explosion before the fire was discovered blew the roof off the building. The loft of the barn had recently been filled with soy bean fodder. It is thought the fire and explosion resulted from spontaneous combustion from the fodder.

The ten horses were pedigree animals in various stages of training. The total loss is approximately $20,000, partly covered by insurance. The fire was seen for several miles around.

BOURBON GUN CLUB

On account of the unavoidable absence of Secretary Rudolph Davis, who was called to Carlisle by the death of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Howse, the regular report of the Bourbon Gun Club's shoot of Wednesday was handed in too late for publication in Friday's issue. The trophy, $10.00 in trade, donated by Grinnell Bros., was won by Alfred Clay, who made a score of 100 straight hits. There will be but three more shoots, as the traps will be closed on November 1. The following scores were made Wednesday:

This hootch is worst of any town, It brings a lot of woes; You'd better turn bootleggers down Ere you turn up your toes.

A Louisville man has become obsessed with the idea that he is the devil. Now the moral is: Don't believe everything your wife tells you.

A little learning is a dangerous thing." As proof, pray take the case Of some sweet maid When first she learns To decorate her face.

What persons regulate to their speech Depends on what they would reach; The man who asks you for a loan Likely talks in softest tone.

A Paris father chided his son because his school books were so clean as to suggest infrequent use. "Well," said the kid, "my geography ain't no cleaner than your Bible."

What has become of the old-fashioned Paris wife who thought her husband was so humane because he went down town every night to "feed the kitty?"

When you size up the fellow who complains he has been the victim of circumstances, you generally conclude that circumstances didn't have a very hard tussle in downing him.

We are accustomed to thinking of Philadelphia as slow. Yet the discovery has just been made that a sign on one of the principal buildings in Louisville has been wrong for more than twenty-five years.

I heard of a man sying of his dead friend: "He didn't have a dollar, but he was one of the best-loved men in town." Was not that as perfect an epitaph as the human tongue could devise or human being wish for?

Thursday will be the annual recurrence of Columbus Day, which will be appropriately celebrated all over America. But we are willing to bet that when Columbus discovered America he couldn't have had the thrill that a fellow gets when he finds a five-dollar bill in the pocket of an old pair of pants.

The man whose thirst impels him to purchase liquor from bootlegger can judge by a simple test whether or not it is safe to drink the stuff. Just pour the entire contents of each container into an open sewer. If the liquor crawls out of the pipe and back into the bottle, it is impure; if it goes through it's safe. See?

There is nothing sadder in this world than the spectacle of a little Paris boy complaining as he goes to bed, that the day has been so short he only had time to break four windows, rip his trousers three times, drive a nail through a smart family album and put three snakes in the teacher's desk. We know it, for we have been along that line, and have done those very things—and caught what was coming to us after, too.

Thomas A. Edison will be handed down in world history as a great inventor because he is believed to have invented that yarn about it being possible to work twenty hours a day, and sleep during that part of the remaining four hours that is not devoted to eating or recreation.

One reason for frequent divorces in America is the popularity of the ideal expressed in the term "love nest," and the unpopularity of the old-fashioned conception of household equipment which included a tin wash basin on the back porch for some of the boys to use while the rest of the children washed their faces and hands in the house.

Of course we're an old grouch, and don't know nothing about it anyhow noways, either, but, if our opinion were asked, we would say that much of this enthusiasm about the world series strikes us as being made to order. If you've got the money, and are willing to spend it, you can have a winning team; that seems to be the way out of it, and ones sporting blood is just as little stirred over such a contest as when a wealthy stock broker gives an order to buy a likely Derby winner and luck stays with him long enough for a blue ribbon.

October is rich in notable birthday anniversaries. Already we have had the anniversaries of Rufus Choate, James Lawrence, Geo. Bancroft, President Hayes, Jonathan Edwards, President Arthur, Lyman Beecher and the city editor of THE BOURBON NEWS; and the month still holds for us the birthdays of Roosevelt, Thomas B. Reed, William Penn, Admiral Schley, Noah Webster, President John Adams, Roscoe Conklin, John Hay, John Keats, Samuel Taylor Coleridge, Helen Hunt Jackson, Leigh Hunt, McCaulay, Sarah Bernhardt, Lamartine, Palmerston, Allan Ramsey, and Denison.

Frank Armstrong received a note from Miss Marie Barnes Wednesday, saying "Georgetown is lovely, and everybody in it. Thirty confessions and a crowded court house."

The time for the races to begin at Lexington at 12 o'clock instead of 2, gives great cause of complaint to the city people, but is satisfactory to many from the country.

The marriage of a good-looking and well-to-do Cincinnati lumber merchant to one of our handsome and wealthy bluegrass bells, is a near-in-the-future event.

Boot Jack, Luke Blackburn and Hindoo will be pitted against each other for the cup at the spring meeting of the Louisville Jockey Club.

Col. W. W. Baldwin, of Mason county, is mowing all of his fallen rye, and is feeding it to his mules. He has also plowed up his oats and has sown again.

Mike Thornton, of Millersburg, desires all who wish buggy painting and repairing for the June races, in that city, had better send in their work immediately, so as to avoid the grand-rush of next month.

The pistol that Jesse James carried has not been shown on the second-hand market of the city yet, but a new single-barrel shot gun can be bought at this office for $3.50.

With 621 Barnes converts and the negro brass band disbanded, the devil has no further use for Paris, but has packed his grip-sack and taken up his permanent abode in Cynthiana.

The huge law sign of Brent & Lucas blew down on the head of Ed. Mitchell, a New York grocery drammer, on Wednesday, and awakened him to the horrible fact that signs are sometimes given when not asked for.

Rays from the sun, shining through a lamp reflector in Mrs. S. J. Turney's window, set fire to a box of dry goods notions the other day. The reflector being convex, has all the powers of concentrating the rays the same as a sun-glass.

They wear a very circussy appearance, and are too utterly for ordinary use.

Since we threw that little bomb shell filled with two-edged truths into the old city council, we lost one subscriber and gained seven in the city. Thus is seen that the majority of our citizens are in for fair play and square business.

The unsuspecting citizens of Lexington ordered out their fire department the other night, to put out the aurora-borealis. Now we know they need the Capitol.

D'YE MIND THE TIME

When These Things Happened In Paris, As Told in THE NEWS' Files?

DAYS OF AULD LANG SYNE

There's no denying that to most of us there is a certain satisfaction in reviewing the events of long ago, as they are presented to us, either casually or by force of some reminiscent strain of the moment. And to those who lived here in the long ago the recalling of events in the old days of Paris affords a peculiar satisfaction all its own. They, perhaps, more than we who have grown used to the old place, will appreciate these items, taken at random from a copy of THE BOURBON NEWS of Friday, April 21, 1882:

Dr. J. T. McMillan sold a Jersey cow and calf this morning to Alex McClintock, for $500.

Alex McClintock will hold a public sale of Shorthorn cattle at Mission Valley Junction on the 22nd inst. Also, at Lemars, Iowa, on May 5th.

Dr. Waller, of Lancaster, will move into the Joe Will Miller residence vacated by the NEWS, in a few days.

Maysville boys are borrowing money from their Cincinnati friends during the session of the Grand Jury this week.

"Where he leads, I will follow," will apply to the young men again, since Mr. Barnes has shaved off his side-whiskers.

Frank Armstrong received a note from Miss Marie Barnes Wednesday, saying "Georgetown is lovely, and everybody in it. Thirty confessions and a crowded court house."

During the meeting, which had formed itself into a mass assembly, a resolution was offered by Joseph Robinson, of Lancaster, asking that every Kentucky Democrat make extraordinary efforts to elect the congressional candidates and Judge David A. McCandless, in the Third appellate district.

A general denunciation of the State and National administrations was made in the resolution. It said that practically every member of the State and National organization had violated promises made to secure their election.

"NOW, IF I WAS RUNNING THIS TOWN"

"Alomst every day of the week we hear some one say, 'Believe me, if I was running this town I'd do so and so.' Probably at least half of the suggestions might prove valuable and the people who are running the town would be glad to get them.

The plain truth of the matter is that every citizen of the town has or should have a hand in the way a town is operated. Far too many of them feel that when they have elected a mayor or city council they have dispensed with their full duty.

Those people are elected simply in order that the will of the people may be carried out—not in order that the town may be run as a mere handful of men dictate.

"These men you have elected do not claim to be all-wise in the best methods of governing a town. They are there to carry out the wisest of the suggestions they receive. Naturally when they do not receive any have to fall back on their own ideas. But they would be only too glad to get ideas from every citizen, so hereafter, instead of saying, 'Believe me, if I was running this town'—just realize that it is part of your job to have a hand in the running and tell the right person what you would do."

pike company fined $50 for keeping the road in bad condition.

H. M. Roseberry has in his employ one of the sturdy young Englishmen who came to this county to learn farming. The man deposited $120 with his employer, who in turn will pay it back to him at the rate of ten dollars per month, for his services. This young man is near twenty years of age, and is of intellectual and clavitated appearance. He entered into a written agreement to do all kinds of farm work—being exempted only from menial services, such as bootblacking and house drudgery.

This may be a little chilling to the budding hopes in the dear Spring time of Will Owens, but Squire Jim Mitchell, the North Middletown reporter of the True Kentuckian, says this week: "All our people in this precinct are for Joe Blackburn over Owens, or anybody else. We believe in fair play in all things. Owens tried to play too nice a game."

DEMOCRATS URGED TO BOOST CANDIDATES

Congressman J. Campbell Cantrell and Alben W. Barkley were mentioned as being possible candidates for next year's gubernatorial race at the meeting of the Democratic State committee held in Louisville. No definite action endorsing either of the men was taken.

Action in the Clayhole case was deferred until a later date because the meeting lacked enough representatives to make a quorum, it was said. It had been announced that the State Committee would make endeavors to relieve the families of the men connected with the Clayhole election case.

During the meeting, which had formed itself into a mass assembly, a resolution was offered by Joseph Robinson, of Lancaster, asking that every Kentucky Democrat make extraordinary efforts to elect the congressional candidates and Judge David A. McCandless, in the Third appellate district.

ANOTHER RECORD BROKEN AT LEXINGTON TROTS

The May Day Stake, worth $12,500, the most valuable race for 2-year-old trotters ever contested in the history of the light harness game, was won in sensational style at the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association track at Lexington, Friday afternoon, by The Senator, owned by Thomas D. Taggart, setting a new world's record for a threeheat race by 2-year-olds and a new world's record for a third heat by 2-year-olds.

After the race Mr. and Mrs. Taggart were called to the stand and presented with the trophy that went with the event. C. H. Traiser, of Boston, was presented with the gold cup that goes to the winner of the Board of Commerce event.

The May Day Stake was worth $9,350 to the winner, $2,000 to Jane Revere, which got second money, and $1,000 to Gulf Breeze. Gulf Breeze has been lame nearly all season and was started in the Kentucky Futurity after very little work.

ENJOYING HIMSELF

(Providence Journal)

What has become of the old-fashioned man who used to think that when autumn arrived it was time to shut all the windows and sit in the chimney corner till spring? He is probably out on the golf links or the tennis court, matched up in happy rivalry with the younger generation.

The fellow they say "has a good carriage" may be just a little buggy.

INTERURBAN TIME TABLE

GROWTH OF MOVIES IN KENTUCKY

Growth of the movies in Kentucky has well nigh put the quietus on the stock companies and theatrical troupes that were wont to play engagements in the smaller towns of the State. The picture shows have supplanted the road attractions with the result that few of the latter now make the Kentucky circuit. Formerly nearly every Kentucky town prided itself on having theatricals for the season were billed. These included the drama, musical shows and minstrels. Since most of the opera houses have been converted into places for film productions the demand for theatricals has subsided or the managers find the movie more profitable.

Whatever may be the reason, "barnstorming" is on the decrease in Kentucky, and generally it is attributed to the growth and development of the movies.

MOTHER, QUICK! GIVE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP FOR CHILD'S BOWELS

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipated poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup. (adv)

DISASTROUS FIRE VISITS GEORGETOWN

One of the most disastrous fires for recent years occurred in Georgetown when the Blue Grass Seed Cleaning establishment, owned by Matt Taylor, and located near the Q. and C. depot, caught fire destroying the building. While workmen were cleaning seed in the building fire was discovered in the engine room.

The building contained about 10,000 bushels of bluegrass valued at approximately $35,000 with $10,000 insurance, and machinery among which was some recently purchased. The building was about 25 years old and was previously used as a tobacco factory and operated by Kinzea Stone and later was used as a maple syrup factory operated by Congressman J. C. Cantrell.

MARY GARDEN, NOTED SOPRANO, WOODLAND PARK, NOVEMBER 1.

Mary Garden will give the second concert of the Artist Series which is being promoted by the Lexington College of Music.

Mary Garden is international, being equally as well known in foreign countries as at home. Her name has been published among the list of the twenty-five greatest living women to-day.

"Our Mary" she is, for the American people. She dawned on America as a new sensation, in 1910, and has been radiating new sensations ever since.

Her art is so original and many-sided that it is constantly presenting a novel, surprising aspect. Such art is genuine.

"One of the most brainy singers who has graced any stage," says the Musical Courier, hitting the key note of her marvelous ability to create, in every role and song, something which had not been found in it before.

Mail orders now to Lexington College of Music for tickets for this concert. The prices are $3.30, $2.75, $2.20 and $1.10 war tax included.

The season tickets are good for this concert. The down town ticket sale will be held in Ben Ali Theatre beginning Saturday morning, October 28 at nine o'clock.

SCOTT COUNTY OWNS BIOGRAPHY OF BARTON STONE

A copy of the biography of Elder Barton W. Stone, published in 1847, is in the Scott county library at Georgetown. The text of another copy, found by Courtland Leer, of Bourbon county, among the books of his father, C. C. Leer, and believed to be the only one in existence, was published September 16 in The Lexington Herald.

The title of the book is "Biography of Elder Barton W. Stone, Written by Himself, With Additions and Reflections by Elder John Rogers." The Scott county edition of the biography is in good condition, having recently been rebound.

This book is interesting from a historical standpoint not only to those of the Christian church, but to all Kentuckians.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

Roy Vanzant, of Bourbon county, who was held to the grand jury on a charge of selling a dog belonging to J. Simms Wilson, of Paris, to an Ohio man, and who was released on bail, was again arrested Saturday afternoon by Sheriff M. Peale Collier, and turned over to the Sheriff of Harrison county. Vanzant was out on bond from the Harrison court on a charge of violating the prohibition laws. Following his being held to the grand jury in the Bourbon court his bondsmen in Harrison county withdrew, and he was again lodged in the Harrison county jail.

Sheriff M. Peale Collier noticed a man at an early hour Sunday morning apparently taking a drink out of a bottle while seated in a machine in front of his residence on Main street. He immediately walked out to the car and placed Jim Jones, of Paris, under arrest on a bootlegging charge. A few moments later, armed with a search warrant, he raided the grocery of Robert Link located at the corner of Eighth and High streets, where he found a quantity of moonshine liquor, some of which was in a showcase, covered over with paper. Besides the liquor a large number of empty jars, bottles and jugs were secured. Link was placed under a $300 bond, signed by Pete English, for his appearance, before County Judge George Batterton, in the County Court, Wednesday, to answer to the charge.

The Pullman Gives You an Extra Room
Without Increasing Your Rent

EVERY family needs extra sleeping quarters in the home in case of emergency. Unexpected visitors come; a nurse may be necessary in any home at any time; you may wish friends to remain over night or to week-end with you; you may wish to accommodate a friend or good neighbor for a night or two; the man of the family may wish a business friend remain over night, whatever the emergency or occasion may be, a Pullman provides the extra sleeping quarters.

Some families may want to rent out a room because of present high rents. Some families may be moving into smaller apartments with fewer sleeping rooms—these are but SOME of the reasons for the immense popularity of the "Pullman."

Here is an opportunity to secure the genuine Pullman, the Davenport Bed that matches up with other furnishings in your home. You can get the same designs, the same woods (mahogany, walnut or oak), the same comfort that you get in the finest stationary davenports.

Here is a beautiful living room piece of furniture that is "as handsome as the finest davenport, as comfortable as the best bed"—one that gives double, or day-and-night service—two pieces of furniture at the price of one.

"GREATER LOVE HATH NO MAN THAN THIS"

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

So said John, and ever since man has glorified the hero who sacrificed his own life for another. History is full of examples, and peace as well as war shows many heroes. Sometimes the hero is not even a man, or a human being, but a humble animal; a god, perhaps, whose love of his master is greater than his love of life.

A dog, so say the scientists, has only instinct. A dog, say the wise men, does not think or reason; he does but react to his environment. Doubtless they know, but if a dog does not think or reason, what holds a dog to his master's side in the face of certain and painful death?

Trapped in the plant of the Long Island Waste Company, John Bracken, watchman, died from fire and smoke. By his side died his bulldog. When they were found, after the smoke and flame had stilled the dog's barks for help, he was not at the barred door, or at the blocked window; he was found with his head upon his dead master. To make this true story better one, let it be chronicled that John Derrick, friend, was so severely burned in a futile effort to rescue man and dog that he, too, may die.

Probably dogs do not reason or think; the scientists are usually right. Probably John Derrick didn't think of anything but his love for his friends when he fought fire for their lives. Would that more of us could learn the lesson of brotherhood as these have learned it, man and dog. Perhaps the little hero pup did not die in vain, if his selfless heroism brings home to us who read, the lesson which John read to us so many years ago.

OIL DEVELOPING STEADILY

Kentucky is forging to the front as a great oil producing State. Some idea of the extent and development of the industry may be gained from official figures of the output which showed that during June 1, 700,000 barrels were produced in Kentucky wells.

Practically in its infancy, oil production is steadily being developed in nearly every section of the State. The oil fields now producing in paying quantities are not confined to any one section, but extend from the Pennyroyal to the Big Sandy. This would seem to warrant the belief held by many that the whole State is a potential oil field.

Unlike coal, which pays no producing tax, oil pays a one-cent impost on the barrel to the State tax fund and a half-cent on the barrel to the county in which it is produced. This has served to augment the county revenues, and has raised some of them from the so-called "pauper" class, a term commonly applied to a county whose proportion of State taxes does not equal the amount received from the State for court costs and other items.

Many fortunes have been made in oil development in Kentucky during the past decade, and persons in ordinary circumstances have become rich over night.

The oil boom, on the other hand, caused a feverish speculation in oil stocks. Many of the wells existed only on paper, with the result that many "suckers" were fleeced during the era of "wildcatting."

Oil production steadily is increasing, however, and daily adding to the wealth and commercial importance of Kentucky.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who used to use that curly eatin' tobacco?

KING LOPS OFF $50,000 A YEAR

George of Great Britain Forced to Effect Economies in Expense of Household.

GUTS DOWN HIS RACING STUD

In Spite of Rise in Cost of Living, the King Has Resolutely Declined to Ask Nation for Any Increase in Grant.

London.—King George has set yet another example which may advantageously be followed by thousands of his subjects. As a result of recent economies in the king's household, an annual saving of something like $50,000 is being made. This is the result of the special investigation the king ordered some months ago, when, in order to achieve economies in accordance with the spirit of the time, he directed that the whole organization of the royal household should be overhauled. The work of reorganization at Buckingham palace, Windsor castle and other royal residences has been in progress ever since. Its completion, with the saving mentioned, is naturally a matter of satisfaction to the king, whose financial resources are probably much overestimated in the public mind. Moreover, the economy has been secured without the efficient and effective administration of the royal household being impaired in the slightest. It has to be borne in mind that the amount of money granted by the house of commons annually for the maintenance of the crown and the royal household remains at the same figure as in 1914.

Refuses to Ask Increase.

In spite of the general rise in the cost of living and of all commodities, the king has resolutely declined to apply to the nation for any increase. This has meant, inevitably, that he has had to draw heavily upon his private resources during the past eight years—to an extent that would cause considerable surprise could the figures be published. In his task of reducing expenses the king has been fortunate in having the assistance of so experienced, and astute a financier as the veteran Viscount Farquhar, lord steward of the household. This is not the first instance in which Lord Farquhar has been called upon to act in this capacity. He served King Edward in similar fashion after he came to the throne, when it was found that the entire royal household required to be remodeled, and the many sinecures that had grown up during the later years of the reign of Queen Victoria rigorously abolished.

Early in the present year Lord Farquhar was able to submit a balance sheet showing how the money was being expended in the royal household and where reductions might profitably be made without any loss of efficiency. This the king considered for some days with very particular care, and in the end gave it his hearty approval, and this work of reorganization at his various residences went forward. In the meantime his majesty decided it was necessary for him to retrench his personal expenses in every manner possible. Therefore he gave directions that his racing stud be cut down to a minimum and that no unnecessary expense was to be incurred in connection with his stables. He decided, as a farther economy, that his famous old racing cutter Britannia should not be put into commission this year. This, however, had an effect upon which the king had not calculated.

Britannia to Race Again.

The withdrawal of the yacht from the races in which it was customary for it to take part in the past led to other owners of big yachts deciding to lay their boats up. An unfortunate blow was thus hit at the sport, and not a little unemployment was caused among those who had been accustomed to man these large racing craft. This aspect of the matter was brought to the notice of the king when he was staying at Cowes recently. Any development causing unemployment at once receives the sympathetic attention of the king, who decided to inspect the Britannia, now laid up in the Medina river in the Isle of Wight, in order to see what repairs and renovations would be required to render it seaworthy for the opening of the yachting season next year.

As a result the Britannia will hoist her pennant again next year. This is a fact which will cause the greatest satisfaction in yachting circles throughout the kingdom. It is also now probable that when the autumn sales of bloodstock open at Doncaster, Newmarket and elsewhere, the king will order new horses to be obtained with a view to bringing his racing stud into line with what it used to be in the days of King Edward.

Father Wanted a Girl.

Cloversdale, Cal.—Dr. J. W. Swisher of Healdsburg answered a call to Cloversdale, where the stork was expected at the home of Ray Latton. Latton made it clear he hoped the new arrival would be a daughter, and offered to double the fee if his hope was realized if Dr. Swisher would agree to waive charges if the baby was a boy. It was agreed. A few hours later twin daughters were born to Mrs. Latton. Latton wonders what Dr. Swisher's bill will be.

ATTRACTS LIGHTNING

Chimney repair men are trying to ascertain what attracts the lightning to a chimney 150 feet high located at Elston and Webster avenues, Chicago. In this immediate vicinity there are some 22 chimneys about the same height and none of them have suffered from lightning during the past year, while this particular chimney has been struck three times. The first time it was struck it lost 50 feet off the top. The second time it split it down about 50 feet and the third time it took a circling course down the chimney the entire length and made its exit through the firebox.

NO FLYING FISH AT MANDALAY

Sea Over 100 Miles Away and China Isn't Across the Bay—Kipling in Error.

Mandalay, Burma.—With its thousand pagodas, its deserted palaces and its picturesque ruins, the city of Mandalay continues to be a place of chief attraction for the European or American visitor to Burma.

The palace grounds, surrounded by a wall and moat, are about a mile and a half square. The buildings have a cheap gaudiness about them which compares in many ways to that of an American street carnival. Still preserved are the throne rooms and the apartments of the king, the senior queens. Mindon Min, the next to the last king of Burma, married 57 wives—seeking, evidently, to discover what the "57 varieties" are like.

From the palace grounds an American taxi takes the visitor to the foot of Mandalay hill, one of the holy places of Burma Buddhism. Here those who are adherents of the Buddhist religion and are willing to remove their footwear may obtain great merit by climbing the nearly 400 steps which lead to the summit.

Many Americans have been confused as to the exact location of Mandalay by a couple of geographical errors which occur in Kipling's well-known poem. It could hardly be "where the flying fishes play," when the sea is over a hundred miles distant. And China isn't "just across the bay," but is just across the mountains instead. Just across the bay is India.

GREEN APPLES RUN TRACTOR

Chemist-Farmer in Washington Makes Alcohol From Waste Crop From Orchard.

Monitor, Wash.—Driving his tractor with alcohol distilled from a mash of green apples picked at thinning time, a local orchardist claims he is in a way to utilize many other waste products in manufacturing this material.

Tons of green apples fall annually during the regular June drop, while many more are removed to leave room for the growth of the first-grade fruit, and as a rule these are wasted because of immaturity.

A graduate of an eastern college and a student of experiments made by the government in distilling alcohol from by-products, this owner has been conducting a chemical laboratory of his own. He will soon explain his method before the fall session of the state grange.

At Age of Nine Months Boy Whistles Fluently

Youngstown, O.—Claim is made that Mervin, nine-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Heyman of this city, "can whistle like a canary." "He's been whistling since he was six months old," declared the proud father. "I'm sure he is the champion baby whistler of the world. Why, when that boy grows up he ought to be in great demand. Think what Mr. Sousa would give to have such a whistler in his band!"

CONFIDENCE

The Following Statement Should Form Conclusive Proof of Merit to Every Paris Reader

Could stronger proof of the merit of any remedy be desired than the statements of grateful endorsers who say their confidence has been undiminished by lapse of time? These are the kind of statements that are appearing constantly in your local papers for Doan's Kidney Pills. They are twice-told and confirmed, with new enthusiasm. Can any reader doubt the following? It is from a Paris resident:

Phillip M. Heller, proprietor meat market, 314 Second street, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills a few times in the past and have been greatly benefited by them. My back was weak and lame and my kidneys acted too frequently, causing me to get up during the night. A box of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at Varden & Son's Drug Store gave me fine relief. I certainly think Doan's are a splendid remedy and gladly recommend them to anyone." (Statement given November 9, 1916.)

On November 12, 1920, Mr. Heller said: "I am glad to say the cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me has been lasting. I gladly confirm my former statements."

70,000 GROWERS IN BURLEY POOL

According to figures of the Field Service Division compiled last Saturday, September 30, the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association has 70,000 members on its rolls, and is planning an active campaign for the month of October, by which it is expected to add 5,000 more members to the big tobacco co-operative, closing with an intensive drive the last week of the time given outside growers in which to sign—October 30 to November 6.

Assistant Chief of the Field Service Division William Collins, of Paris, said that 567 contracts had been signed by new members the past week.

"We urge our membership to renew their efforts to sign up the outsiders before November 6," said Mr. Collins. "The county organizations that did such splendid work last year again will go into the field before the closing date, November 6, and good results are anticipated.

It is expected that the members in every county will give their loyal support to the sign-up and will actively assist the county chairmen in the final canvass. Five thousand new members before November 6 is the aim of the Association and its officers are confident that these will be signed and the total membership thus brought to 75,000."

NEWSPAPER ARBITERS

"Why not a newspaper arbiter, a la Will Hays, of the movies, Judge Landis, of baseball, and Augustus Thomas, of the dramatic world?" asks the Brownsville (Texas) Herald. Continuing the editor sarcastically observes: "The press should be limited, at least as to the amount of space position, and style of headlines developed to divorce suits and breach of promise scandals among our millionaire society circles."

"Every newspaper has its arbiters, and lots of them, at that. They rise up early in the morning to gather in the misdeeds of the newspapers, and they spend, sometimes, almost the rest of the day in arbiting until their teeth ache. Some of the arbiters arbiting that you can imagine is what the newspaper man gets."

This gentle tirade may not mean much to the layman, but to the man or woman in the newspaper game, it is poignantly true. Much more could be said. Allusions might have been made to the troubles of the circulation manager who must explain scores of times a day why certain subscribers did not get their papers before 6 o'clock in the morning. Also, something might have been said about the cares of the society editor who in a moment of inadvertence spells Mrs. Smythe's daughter Edythe's name Edith Smith, and announces that she has gone to Green Bay for the summer instead of to Cape May.

Then there are the arbiters who take it upon themselves to "arbitrate" the chronology of the newspapers. They go into session if an allusion is made to the big snow of December, 1917, instead of the blizzard of January, 1918. They stand ready to correct any historical slip from the fall of Babylon to the fall of Port Arthur.

JUDGE BINGHAM EXPECTED TO CALL TOBACCO MEN SOON

The call for a national conference of tobacco co-operative association executives, which has been planned by Judge Robert W. Bingham, James C. Stone and Aaron Sapiro, of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, and which is expected to be held either in Lexington or Louisville this fall, the conference are the presidents, sales managers, directors of warehouses, secretaries, field service chiefs and publicity directors and the conference will discuss problems of mutual interest to all the tobacco co-operators and the co-operative marketing movement generally.

Judge Bingham has been busy in the dark tobacco district, speaking in the effort to organize the growers of dark tobacco in most of the important centers, and has not had time to devote to the details of the proposed conference for the past several weeks, but it was said at the offices of the Burley Association that he is expected to issue the call for the conference soon.

Nearly 250,000 tobacco growers will be represented in the conference, including 80,000 in the Burley district, and the remainder in the Wisconsin and Connecticut cigar tobacco districts.

The field service division of the Burley Association reported more than 600 new members for the past week and workers busy in every section of the district giving to all outside growers the opportunity to come in before November 6, when the books will close for the year. Good work is being done in many counties, and especially in Anderson county, where a considerable number of growers have come into the association at the solicitation of Albert T. Day and J. D. Baxter, who have been assisting the local organization there. In Green county, Chairman Woodson Lewis reported a successful drive Thursday and Friday, and in Huntington territory, Manager Harry B. Carpenter and his staff have added many members.

HAS NEVER FELT BETTER IN ALL HIS LIFE

Thousands of frail, nervous people and convalescents everywhere have testified to the remarkable power of Tanlac in bringing back their health, strength, and working efficiency. It seems to quickly invigorate the constitution and is a powerful foe of weakness. Harry W. Miller, 338 S. Main street, Akron, Ohio, says:

"My whole system was out of order. My appetite failed me, I was so nervous I couldn't sleep. I lost weight, and felt wornout all the time. Tanlac certainly made quick work of my troubles. I gained nearly ten pounds in weight, and was soon feeling fine in every way."

There is not a single portion of the body that is not benefited by the helpful action of Tanlac. It enables the stomach to turn the food into healthy blood, bone and muscle, purifies the system and builds you back to normal weight. Get a bottle to-day at any good druggist.

FISHERMEN ENCOUNTER TOUGH ONE; HE GOT AWAY

Jonah and the well-known whale had nothing on Harry Sloane and Jacob Snyder, during a fishing trip they took in the bay at Plymouth, Mass.

The two men declare they met a fish at least eight foot long, which had a hide so tough that it could not be pierced with an ax, a gaff-hook, or with bullets from a revolver, all of which they tried. They declared that the inside of the creature's mouth was so scaly that hooks and gaffs made no impression, but slipped off as though they had struck a sheet of steel.

The fish, according to a description given by the two men, was gray on the back and white underneath and weighed at least 60 pounds, they said. Furthermore, it had no tail. The fish got away.

BOARD OF HEALTH HAS ADVISORY COMMITTEE

For the first time since it has functioned as a department of the State Board of Health, the Bureau of Trachoma and Conservation of Vision has an Advisory Committee made up jointly of oculists and optometrists. The personnel of this Advisory Committee, on which all sections of the State are represented, was announced by Dr. A. T. McCormack, State Health Officer.

Dr. Baylord C. Hall, of Louisville, was named chairman of the committee. Other members are Dr. James P. Edmonds, of Middlesboro, Dr. H. G. Reynolds, of Paducah, and T. J. Howe and R. M. Kendall, of Louisville.

Two appointments to the Boards of Examiners in Optometry also were announced by Dr. McCormack. Earl Camp, of Middlesboro, was named to succeed Mr. Kendall for a two-year term, and A. S. Hendrick, of Lexington, was reappointed to serve another three years.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Existing railroad labor troubles and the averting of the strike of the Maintenance of Way Workers pending adjustment of the tentative cut to 23 cents an hour, recalls the time when in Kentucky, these workers were paid 90 cents for a ten-hour work-day.

These conditions obtained about twenty years ago when "section hands" received the pittance of 9 cents the hour and the foreman of a railroad section gang was paid a salary of $36 a month.

It was a time of general financial depression throughout the country, and railroad pay like all others was cut to the bone. In the light of the prosperous conditions that have obtained among railroad workers for years, it seems almost incredible that a little over a score of years ago one class worked for 90 cents a day.

Inventions to be used in type casting machines by which he hopes to revolutionize certain phases of the printing industry have been made by Louis C. Tinsley, a former Hutchinson, Kansas, printer. For none of them will hesitate to trade with people up-to-date. To stop your 'ad,' we would remark, is just like winking in the dark—you may know what you mean, but, gee! nobody else can ever see! So do not for a moment think that when you cut out printer's ink, you're saving money on the side; 'tis only business suicide."

MICHIGAN WOMEN TO FIGHT LONG SKIRTS

A fight by women for the right to wear skirts at the length they see fit is on in Flint, Michigan. Ten young women, holding that they do not have to abide by the edicts of Dame Fashion, employers and others in dictating what girls should or should not wear, have formed the "No Longer Skirt Club."

The chief purpose of the club is for the survival of the short skirt. The club plans launching a vigorous campaign in which members hope to enlist the aid of every woman in Flint.

SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS AT THE ALAMO AND GRAND

Dorothy Dalton got all the exercise she wanted in "The Crimson Challenge," her new Paramount picture, which will be seen at the Alamo and Paris Grand this afternoon and night. Besides doing a lot of horseback riding and a number of chase scenes in which she ran down the villain, mounted on a fast horse, she found that merely to carry around two large six-shooters in a heavy cartridge belt with holsters was no easy task.

"They fell as if they weighed a ton," said the star. In the little role of Tharon, she has a vigorous Western part — girl who can shoot with either hand, ride a puncher and fight with the roughest of them.

Gloria Swanson, Paramount star, can't swim a stroke!

That didn't deter her, however, when it became necessary for scenes in "Behind the Rocks," her latest starring vehicle, showing at the Alamo and Grand to-morrow afternoon and night, from plunging into the ocean near Catalina Island, out of her own boat and then keeping up to the best of her ability until rescued by Rodolph Valentino, who plays the leading man's role.

"Women Men Love," the big special six-reel picture, which will be seen at The Alamo Thursday afternoon, brings William Desmond back to us in a role such as made him front rank favorite in the old Triangle days. "Women Men Love" is the story of a man who loved his weak and beautiful wife so well that he went down to and finally brought her back to the Throne.

—Mr. George K. Boulden, aged sixty-one, well-known in Paris, died at the home of Dr. C. B. Smith, in Millersburg, Saturday night, where he had been visiting for several days. Mr. Boulden had been an invalid for some time. See Millersburg items in this issue for extended obituary notice.

RATLIFF

—William Hart Ratliff, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Ratliff, died at nine o'clock Friday morning at the home of his parents, on Lilleston avenue, after a short illness. The funeral was held Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock at the home on Link avenue, with services conducted by Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church. The interment took place in the Carlisle Cemetery. Besides his parents he is survived by one sister.

RICE

—Mrs. Mollie Rice, aged about seventy-two, died at her home on Pleasant street, in this city, at 12:30, Friday following an illness that extended over a period of several weeks. For several days previous to her death Mrs. Rice had been confined to her bed, and was in an unconscious condition several days prior to her death. Her condition had been recognized as very critical for some time by her family and relatives had been notified.

Mrs. Rice was a native of Bourbon county, born at North Middlesex on December 31, 1847. She was a daughter of J. Henry and Amanda Johnson Bryan, pioneer residents of that community. When quite young she was united in marriage to Mr. Logan Howse, of Carlisle, an uncle of Mrs. Rudolph Davis, of Paris. Mr. Howse died about seven months later. On November 18, 1887, she was married to Mr. Edward Rice, a wealthy farmer of the North Middletown precinct. To this union was born one child who died in infancy. A cousin, Miss Lillie Williams, of Kansas City, who has been living with Mrs. Rice, from childhood, has given her life, as it were, in service and devotion to Mrs. Rice, and administering affection and attention to her at all times without thought of herself, extending the tender love and affection that a living daughter would have given.

Mrs. Rice was a faithful and devoted member of the North Middletown Christian church, with which she united when a young girl, and her love for these life-long friends, together with memories of hallowed associations, prompted her to retain her membership in that church, attending services regularly when her health would permit, in her adopted home city. Hers was a gentle, lovable nature, happiest when giving pleasure to others, and her home was an abiding place for a multitude of friends.

Mrs. Rice is survived by one brother, James Carroll Bryan, Sr., another brother, W. S. Bryan, preceding her to the grave two years ago. She is also survived by her cousin, Miss Lillie Williams; five nieces and nephews, Mrs. F. Skinner Kerr, of Winchester, and Mr. Logan Bryan, of North Middletown, children of Mr. C. E. Bryan, Sr. Mrs. Charles A. Snyder, of Louisville, Mr. William T. Bryan, of Paris, and Mr. James Carroll Bryan, Jr., of North Middletown, children of the late W. S. Bryan. Mrs. Hiram S. Redmon, of Paris, is also a first cousin.

The funeral was held at the home on Pleasant street at 2:30 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, with services conducted by Rev. W. F. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church, assisted by Rev. F. M. Tinder, of the North Middletown church. The interment took place on the family lot in the North Middletown Cemetery.

The pall-bearers were: Honorary: J. D. Davis, S. D. Patrick, J. W. Young, John J. Redmon, C. H. Meng, L. D. Young, W. S. Jones, T. J. Judy, John S. Talbott, Wm. McCray.

DANDY DANCING DARKIES

That singing dancing comedy contingent with J. A. Coburn's Minstrels at the Paris Grand, on Thursday night, October 12, is said to be the best entertainers the attraction has ever had. Dan Holt, the Georgia Cotton Blossom, of Macon, Ga., for many years a big time vaudeville entertainer, heads the list and is a well-known favorite in minstrelsy. "Hank" White, endman, typical Ol' Mammy, and blackface character comedian, a strong bidder for honors in the fun line. Nate Mulroy, that wide-awake singing and fast dancing party from West Virginia, is a winner, hands down. Joe McGee, Henry Ray, Tom Shea and others line up going strong in their respective positions. Mr. Edward C. Clifford, phenomenal baritone, formerly with the company, returns from vaudeville this year with new songs, and as interlocutor. Joe McAnalon, Irish tenor,
